Research themes proposed:

- Intercultural Education – with special attention to kids of foreign origin, immigrants and second generations and the way of creating inclusive and participatory environments.

In this field it will be possible to develop a comparative study about the management of migratory flows and the educational strategies of social participation (focused on minors, young and/or women).

- Social Animation and inclusion – as an educational style and democratic method of intervention from the perspective of cooperation, social cohesion and participatory planning.

In this field it will be possible to realize a field-research about participatory planning and cooperative research involving different institution (university, schools, communities...) to develop a critical framework about participation and engagement of the local community like a generative welfare.

- Active Ageing, Intergenerational Dialogue and Long Term Care in connection with migrant careworker – focusing on the perspective of home-care, the issue of “badanti” in Italy and the transnational families.

In this field it will be possible to develop a comparative study about the intergenerational dialogue (especially between elderly and kids) at the community levels and, on the other hand, we can design a research about home-care and long term care of frail elderly between care, caregiver and careworker.
