COURSE 2 | 6 HOURS

LEGAL RESEARCH METHODOLOGY AND SCIENTIFIC WRITING

3 MAY | 10.00-13.00 / 14.00-17.00

Creahub | Via Gramsci 29 | Macerata

The course aims to build scientific perspective of legal research methodology i.e. conceptual foundations and legal research methods tools for data collection and analysis, and to provide a student with practically applicable knowledge for writing individual or group scientific papers (bachelor or master thesis, articles for publications, etc.)

The course will enable a student to understand principles and elements of research methodology, various elements of research design, to formulate research problem, objectives and questions. It will introduce students to various methods, tools and techniques related to social and legal research.

The focus of the course would be designing studies for applied research. It will also guide a student how to deal with various ethical and methodological concerns in doing research. The course has a strong practical component and teaching will be conducted through interactive communication on concrete research topics.
